THE UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY

The Academy Today

The United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, is the undergraduate college of the U.S. Navy. Its primary mission is to prepare young men for careers as officers in the U.S. Navy or the U.S. Marine Corps. The Academy is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and graduates of its four-year course are awarded the Bachelor of Science degree.

Under the Academy's recent validating, elective, minors, and majors programs advanced undergraduate courses have become a reality for every midshipman. The basic curriculum consists of a core curriculum of 36 courses (two during second class summer) plus an elected minors program of six courses. A minimum of 144 semester hours is required for graduation.

The core curriculum provides midshipmen with a broad liberal education in mathematics, science, social science and the humanities, and a thorough background in seamanship, navigation, engineering, and weaponry. The selection of 23 minors and 23 majors allows midshipmen to concentrate their studies in a field of their choice.

Every midshipman is required to complete the courses of the core curriculum (or validate comparable college-level work) and to complete a minor. Courses for which a midshipman is able to validate previous work may be omitted and electives substituted. Capable midshipmen are permitted to carry more than the minimum number of courses. Many earn a major—normally six courses beyond the minor.

Historical Sketch

The Naval Academy was founded in Annapolis as the Naval School in 1845 by the Honorable George Bancroft, historian, educator, and Secretary of the Navy. Its site, Fort Severn, was obtained from the War Department. The first Superintendent was Commander Franklin Buchanan. His seven-member faculty of four officers and three civilians taught gunnery, naval tactics, engineering, chemistry, mathematics, astronomy, French and English. About sixty midshipmen, formed in two classes, attended the Academy's first convocation.

Prior to 1845, the majority of a midshipman's training was conducted aboard ship under the ship's chaplain. Supplementary training was provided from time to time at various schools ashore. These included a short-lived school established in the Washington Navy Yard in 1803 and a school established in Philadelphia in 1839 to provide an eight-month preparatory course for midshipmen's promotion examinations.

Initially the course at Annapolis was five years. Of these, only the first and last were spent at the new Naval School. The intervening three were spent at sea. In 1850-51 the Naval School was reorganized as the United States Naval Academy. The course of study became four consecutive years. Summer practice cruises replaced the omitted sea service. Thus, today's basic four-year curriculum, supplemented by summer at-sea training, first appeared at the Naval Academy over 100 years ago.

The Board of Visitors first met at the Academy in 1851. During the Civil War the Academy was moved to Newport, Rhode Island. In 1864 it was returned to Annapolis where it has since remained. In the years following, a number of changes were made in the organization and curriculum. From 1873 to 1912 the academic course was six years, with the last two being spent at sea. In 1912 the two years at sea were omitted, and the course reverted to four years. During the Civil, Spanish-American, and World Wars the course was shortened to speed the flow of officers to the Fleet. Both World Wars saw the training of large classes of reserve midshipmen and officers at the Academy.

On 25 May 1933, an Act of Congress authorized the Superintendent to confer the degree of Bachelor of Science upon all graduates from and after the date of the accrediting of the Academy by the Association of American Universities. Since the Association had previously accredited the Academy on 25 October 1930, graduates commencing with the Class of 1931 became eligible for the degree. By virtue of an Act of Congress approved on 8 July 1939, the Superintendent was authorized to confer the degree upon all living graduates. In May of 1947, the Naval Academy was accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The total number of graduates, including the Class of 1968, is 36,554.

Revolutionary changes in the Academy's traditional curriculum began with 1959-60 Academic Year when, for the first time, provision was made for incoming midshipmen to validate previous college-level work and to substitute alternate or elective courses for equivalent courses in the basic curriculum. Concurrently, there was a broadening of course offerings and qualified midshipmen were encouraged to carry more than the minimum number of courses.

Academic departments were incorporated into three major Academic Divisions under Division Directors reporting to the Superintendent: the Mathematics, Science, and Engineering Departments under the Director of Science and Engineering; the English, History, and Government and Foreign Languages Departments under the Director of Social Science and Humanities; and the Command, Weapons, and Naval Hygiene Departments under the Director of Naval Science. In addition, the Physical Education Department joined the Executive Department under the Commandant of Midshipmen.

The 1963-64 Academic Year brought further changes. These included the appointment of a civilian Academic Dean (pro tem), the initiation of the Trident Scholar program, and the conversion of the Academy's traditional 4.0-based marking system to the more widely used letter-grade system.

Under the Trident program, a limited number of exceptional students are selected to engage in independent study and research during their first class (senior) year. Each Scholar is assigned a faculty advisor. Scholars carry a reduced number of courses, and their research study and thesis constitute the major part of their academic program for the year. There were six Scholars selected the first year; the Class of 1968 had sixteen. Thirteen have been selected from the Class of 1969.

The 1964-65 Academic Year brought additional improvements in the Academy's administrative organization and the most significant of recent changes in its curriculum. The civilian line positions of Academic Dean and Dean of Admissions were established, reporting directly to the Superintendent. Academic departments were placed directly under the Academic Dean.

The Academy's uniform basic curriculum was replaced by a flexible curriculum of core courses and an elected minor. Twenty-three minors and twenty-one majors (now twenty-three) were offered. Though sweeping, this most recent curriculum change logically followed the validation and electives programs begun at the Academy in 1959. Thus specialization, begun for some midshipmen in 1959, was insured for all midshipmen in 1963. Members of the Class of 1968, the first to enter the Academy and graduate under this program, earned 231 majors.

Qualifications of the faculty have kept pace with recent improvements in the curriculum—improvements in which the faculty has played a vital role. Today, more than forty percent of the civilian faculty possess the doctorate and over half of the officers on the faculty have at least a master's degree.

The overall quality of incoming midshipmen has kept pace with recent academic improvements. Special programs to attract Merit Scholars, Boys State participants, top-flight candidates from minority groups, and other highly qualified candidates have contributed to the quality of young men entering today's Academy.

An Academic Advisory Board of distinguished educators, businessmen, and naval officers, appointed by the Secretary of the Navy to advise the Superintendent on academic matters presented to the Board, held its initial meeting at the Academy in November 1966. The Board meets at the Academy three times each year. The fall of 1966 also saw the inception of the Academy's Immediate Graduate Education Program under which midshipmen who have completed requisite graduate-level studies at the Academy may be selected to enroll in accelerated master's programs at participating civilian universities or at the Naval Postgraduate School immediately after graduation.

Physical facilities have improved greatly through the years. Acreage has increased from Fort Severn's 10 to today's 302 acres. Much of this increase has resulted from a series of landfills in the Severn River. The most recent landfill, completed in 1959, added 56 acres for athletic fields and new buildings. Construction of buildings in the present French Rennaissance style began in 1899 with a Congressional appropriation of 10 million dollars. Mr. Earnest Flagg of New York was the architect.

Recent years have seen the addition of new wings to Bancroft Hall, the midshipmen's dormitory; the construction of a new field house for indoor athletics; the construction, with privately-donated funds, of the nearby Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium; and the construction of a new Brigade Library and Assembly Hall. A renovation of six of Bancroft Hall's eight wings has recently been completed.

A master 73 million dollar construction and rehabilitation plan is underway. Key structures in this plan are a new science building, Michelson Hall, named for Albert Michelson, a graduate of the Class of 1873, a former member of the faculty, and the first American scientist to be awarded a Nobel Prize, and an adjoining mathematics building, Chauvenet Hall, named for Professor William Chauvenet, distinguished member of the Naval Academy's first faculty. Both were completed in the summer of 1968. Aggregate expenditure for land, buildings and equipment to date exceeds 70 million dollars.

A new engineering building and laboratory complex, a new 750,000-volume library, and a new 2,500-seat multi-purpose auditorium are included in building plans for fiscal 1970 and 1973. Extensive facilities for student and faculty research, computer-aided education, and educational television are included. All academic areas will be air-conditioned.

Appointment to the Academy

*	An asterisk indicates those midshipmen whose aggregate multiples place them in the top 10% of their class. Midshipmen so indicated in the graduating class receive diplomas which read: "Graduated With Distinction." Members of a lower class marked with an asterisk are passing with distinction to date.

Note: The diplomas of midshipmen whose aggregate multiples for the completed course do not place them in the highest 10% of the class, but are not less than 75% of the maximum aggregate multiple, read: "Graduated With Merit." All others read: "Graduated." Class standing is determined by the Aggregate Multiple, which is computed by weighting the grades received in academic work, at-sea-training; aptitude, conduct, and physical education according to the coefficients listed below. Bonuses are added for successful completion of additional courses and for appointment to midshipman officer ranks during first class year.

GENERAL INFORMATION CONCERNING MIDSHIPMEN PROGRAMS, SUMMER 1968

AT-SEA TRAINING—FIRST AND THIRD CLASSES

The mission of the 1968 midshipmen at-sea training was to provide midshipmen with a practical working knowledge of the Fleet and the types of ships in which they were embarked, and at the same time to intensify their desire and love for the Navy and the sea.

The objectives of the training were to provide midshipmen with the facilities and the opportunities for afloat training and with the opportunity to visit various U.S. and foreign ports in order for them to:

- Develop a sense of attachment to, and pride in, ships and the seafaring way of life.
- Learn the organization of Navy ships and the responsibilities, duties, and privileges of the fighting men who live on board.
- Observe the employment, power, and mobility of naval forces.
- Apply knowledge acquired in the classroom in a sea environment.
- Broaden their cultural backgrounds.

The basic training concepts for midshipmen participating in the 1968 training were as follows:

- Midshipmen First Class trained on board Atlantic and Pacific Fleet ships as midshipmen, but were assigned to junior officer billets. They were given opportunities to assume the responsibilities of junior officers in as many departments as practical during summer training. They were assigned definite duties and responsibilities in these billets commensurate with their training status. Additionally, they were afforded essential wardroom indoctrination through berthing and messing in wardroom facilities to the maximum extent feasible.
- Midshipmen Third Class were assigned to Atlantic and Pacific Fleet midshipmen training programs. The training squadrons made ports of call on the East and West Coasts of the United States, at Hawaii, and in the Caribbean Sea. The midshipmen were instructed and, as practical, permitted to assume various duties of ship's enlisted personnel. They berthed and messed in enlisted spaces and facilities.

Twenty-seven midshipmen trained in the navies of various NATO and South American nations. Duration of training varied from four to six weeks. Midshipmen selected for this program represented the U.S. and the Navy in foreign lands and had an opportunity to view and participate in social, cultural and professional programs of other nations.

Atlantic Training Squadron Training

One thousand midshipmen trained in Second Fleet ships in Western Atlantic waters during the period 6 June to 1 August. The ships visited various ports along the East Coast and Gulf Coasts of the United States, including New Orleans and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Atlantic Anti-Submarine Warfare Training

One hundred midshipmen trained in an Atlantic Fleet anti-submarine warfare force carrier group during the period 6 June to 18 July. A second group of 132 midshipmen trained with a similar group from 18 July to 3 Sept. This second group visited several ports in South America. A third group of 30 midshipmen trained from 9 July-5 Sept. aboard ships that visited ports in Northern Europe.

Pacific Training Squadron

One hundred and twenty-eight midshipmen trained in First Fleet ships during the period 6 June to 2 August. Fleet training was accomplished off the West Coast of the United States and in Hawaiian waters. Port visits included Seattle, San Francisco, Long Beach, San Diego, and Pearl Harbor.

ASHORE TRAINING—SECOND CLASS

The Class of 1970 was divided into three main groups of about 250 each and a Plebe Supervisory Detail of 165. The Plebe Detail spent the summer in Annapolis supervising and instructing the new class of incoming plebes (Class of 1972). All were granted leave at various periods during the summer. The three main groups alternated in a three-phase summer composed of leave, academic study, submarine indoctrination at New London, aviation indoctrination at Pensacola and amphibious indoctrination at Little Creek.

Summer Academic Studies

Summer studies were instituted at the Academy for the entire Class. Courses of instruction included Practical Navigation, Line Tactics, and Public Speaking.

Pensacola

The Chief of Naval Air Basic Training provided the midshipmen with basic flight training in various types of training aircraft and with indoctrination in high-performance jet aircraft. Military air transportation was provided by the Navy to the Florida training areas.

New London

COMSUBFLOTTWO presented the midshipmen with basic submarine indoctrination including tours of FBM and conventional submarines, new construction, tenders, and training facilities.

SPECIAL VOLUNTARY PROGRAMS—ALL CLASSES
